Dear Friend,

It is with great joy that I recommend my friend and ministry partner, Scott Dawson to you. I say ministry partner because when it comes to an Evangelist filling your pulpit, holding a revival, Scott gets it. He is an extension to you, your church, and God's ministry through you.

Scott Dawson is a great preacher and communicator. He is not manipulative, and his ego doesn't drive him to focus so much on numbers that he uses gimmicks, tricks and carnal pressure to manufacture decisions. I have known Scott and have used him on several occasions and our folks love him and his team.

His passion for God's Word, lost souls and the church make him a great combination for a "Safe at Home" event, a one-day revival or an Enrichment Conference where you desire God to be glorified and the church edified. Scott relates to all ages and is respected by Senior Pastors and fellow evangelists all across America.

If you have any questions off line, I'd be happy to speak with you about my friend. In a day where people have a hard time trusting the integrity of ministers, pastors and evangelists – Scott helps us to know there are still men of God worth considering and following. It is without reservation I recommend him to you.

In His dear Name,

Ken Whitten
